Negro Lawyer Beaten By Georgia Sheriff

ALBANY, Ga. — A Negro attorney and two field secretaries for a student anti-segregation leveled a charge of police brutality at county police officials last week.

Atty. C. B. King, lawyer for the Albany Movement, told a press conference at his home that Sheriff D. C. Campbell of Dougherty county broke a walking stick over his head after the sheriff had ordered him out of his office. Atty. King's shirt was covered with blood. He had to have eight stitches in his scalp.

James Forman, Executive Secretary of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), said that he had been walking in front of the Dougherty county jail when William Hansen, a SNCC field secretary, called to him from a cell. Hansen, jailed a few days before during a demonstration here, told Forman that he had been beaten and wanted medical attention. Forman asked Atty. King to investigate the incident, and it was then that the sheriff attacked the lawyer.

Newsmen saw King stagger across the street after the beating, blood running down his face. When Hansen was brought to the police station, his face was bloody and his lip cut. He said that other white prisoners in his cell had beaten him after police officials told them "Here's a nigger lover." He is currently in the county hospital with a broken jaw.

Another SNCC worker, Charles Jones, said that a guard in the jail slapped him. In Atlanta, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee wired Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and asked him to investigate the beatings and last week's intimidation of SNCC workers in near-by Terrell County.

The Links, Inc., a nationwide women's organization devoted to advancing civic and cultural activities, has launched its 1962 Christmas card campaign, with proceeds this year going to the National Urban League.

Links officials say the 1962 greeting card will be of artistic design of universal appeal carrying a holiday greeting. Accompanying the greetings will be an enclosure describing the Urban League and its program.

Founded in 1946 and presently represented by 90 chapters in 86 cities including Memphis, the Links chose the National Urban League as this year's project at its recent National Convention.

During the past two years, proceeds from the campaign have been donated to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Horton To Address Lakeview Civic Club

C. O. Horton, Jr., assistant U. S. Attorney general, has been engaged to speak to the Lakeview Garden Civic club during a meeting set for Tuesday, Aug. 14 at 7:30 p.m., at Lakeview Elementary school, announces the club president, Iton J. Earls.

The meeting is open to the public.

Earl Of Sandwich Did Not Appear—Thank Goodness

NEW YORK CITY — The Earl of Sandwich did not appear—thank goodness.

When the Wheat Flour Institute announced on July 31 that the Earl of Sandwich would appear in person at the Coronation Luncheon in New York City which climaxed the National Sandwich Idea Contest—the announcement was in error.

The Fourth Earl Of Sandwich of England died in the 18th Century.—He was impersonated at the party by an actor.

Violence Over Sit-Ins

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — Violence flared in this southern city when 40 high school students, members of three NAACP Youth Councils, staged sit-in demonstrations at Woolworth's and Kress stores last week. They were denied service at both stores.

Negro Soldier Might Charge Policemen With False Arrest

Charges of "assault and battery, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct," were dismissed against a 19-year-old soldier when he was brought before Judge Beverly Bousche, Monday.

The soldier, Johnny C. Newbern, here on a 21-day leave from Ft. Bliss, Tex., where he is stationed with the U. S. Army, said he was first arrested and charged with the three above counts on Sunday, July 29 after two policemen had "brutally beaten, kicked and threatened him with a gun while he was handcuffed." He was represented in court by Atty. S. A. Wilbur.

Newbern and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newbern, 1865 Hunter St., were consulting Atty. Wilbur in preparation of filing a suit against the two policemen and the City of Memphis for being "illegally arrested, jailed and false charges."

NIGHT STICK

Newbern said that he was on his way home walking from 1941 Edwards st., after visiting some friends when the policemen stopped him and asked him what was in the small bag he was carrying. He said he told them it was clothing. "They searched the bag and threw it to the ground. Then they asked me for identification after I told them that I was a soldier. They looked at my identification in my billfold and threw that to the ground. They then called me a low, no good nigger and asked me to agree to it. I refused."

Then one struck me with his night stick. I jumped back. That is when the other struck me with his fist from behind. When the one in front of me started to advance on me again, I struck at him with my fist. That is when both of them threw me to the ground, hand-

Grab For Power Blamed For Political Splits

The big unanswered question among disgruntled Negro voters is will those leaders who participated in splitting and splintering the once powerful Negro vote bloc attempt a reconciliation? If so, who will initiate the peace-making meeting?

Two schools of thought are general heard in the now relatively silent political arena. One school expresses it in this manner — "The Shelby County Democratic club leaders, Atty. Russell B. Sugarman, Atty. A. W. Willis and Jesse H. Turner are not in a position to give the best leadership in effecting a coming-back-together of the splits, because they aided in splitting the club in the first place, by usurping too much power without authority from the whole membership."

A. MACEO WALKER

The other school of thought is: "The Farris For Governor Committee," could readily be turned into a permanent organization."

Heading the Committee, which has not announced its disbandment, are A. Maceo Walker, president of Universal Life Insurance Company and Tri-State Bank; H. A. Gilliam, vice president of the insurance company; and Frank Kilpatrick.

Walker and Kilpatrick were both presidents of the Shelby County Democratic club. Walker resigned under pressure after he accepted an appointment to the Memphis Transit Authority. Kilpatrick resigned as president several weeks before the Aug. 2 Election, to campaign for Congressman Clifford Davis after a stern regulation was read by the Shelby County Democratic club to the effect that "members would be forced to resign from the club if they did not actively support all candidates endorsed by the club."

JAMES T. WALKER

Also resigning from the club for the same reason were Mr. and Mrs. James T. Walker, who were joined by Henry White, once the treasurer of the club, and Rev. James A. McDaniel, executive secretary of the Memphis Urban League.

The four formed the Independent Democratic Voters Committee and campaigned for gubernatorial Candidate P. "Rudy" Oligati on the state level, Dr. Ross Pritchard for Congress and Jack Ramsay and Bruce Jordan for county commissioners.

It was generally believed that Kilpatrick was among the best grass-roots level workers in the Democratic club. Three weeks before the election he obtained and organized 200 wards and precinct workers for the "Farris and Davis Committee."

O. Z. EVERS

A number of the once-staunch workers in the Democratic club fled to the Walker-Kilpatrick camp during the hassle, or became inactive in the campaign. Among those who went into the Walker-Kilpatrick camp were Howard Jackson, Lawrence Wade and James Ballard.

Those who did not participate and remained at home were Mrs. Ruby Spight, Atty. S. A. Wilbur, and Miss Ada Ateman. Another member of the club, William Parrish, went with the Christian Unity Committee which was headed by O. Z. Evers, and Rev. J. Richardson.

Evers, who has never worked closely with any organized political group, has failed to win the confidence of other leaders of recognized groups because of some of his political tactics.

GEORGE W. LEE

Eliehue Stanback, who ran for County Tax Assessor in 1959 — who also was politically associated with Evers before a break between them — is reported to have campaigned for the New Guard Republican's slate of candidates who were listed on a sample ballot called "The Party of Lincoln." This is considered a direct slap at Lee and the Lincoln League.

The Lincoln League Republican Party, headed by George W. Lee, also carried on a power-struggle feud with the New Guard Republican. Lee and his old Guard Republicans were vanquished utterly. The group was unable to elect a single candidate on a slate of 16.

The Democratic club would have suffered an equally crushing defeat if had it not been for three unopposed Negro candidates for the County Democratic Executive Committee — Rev. Alexander Gladney new president of the Shelby County Democratic club, George Holloway, and Fred Davis.

ATTY. RUSSELL SUGARMAN

Atty. Russell Sugarman and Jesse H. Turner were unsuccessful in their bids to the State Democratic Executive Committee. Sugarman won a higher vote than Turner.

Reportedly the Democratic club ran Sugarman and Turner in opposition to a move by Lee to entice Democrats to vote the straight Republican ticket in the primary to re-elect him.

After some of the leaders refused to negotiate some log-rolling agreements with Lee, a campaign fight developed between the Lincoln League and Shelby County Democratic Club leaders. Bitter charges and counter-charges were exchanged.

Thus Negro political leaders dissipated their once great force by inter and intra fights.

REV. JAMES A. MCDANIEL

The Shelby County Democratic club's percentage of endorsement of successful candidates was near the lowest of the splits and splinters. Only 44 per cent of their endorsees were elected. On the state level, the club endorsed Frank Clement, who won.

For Congress, it endorsed the unsuccessful Dr. Ross Pritchard. On the county level, the club lost totally in the Dave Harsh-Rudolph Jones endorsement.

The Farris-Davis Committee was 100 per cent successful in its program. The group, headed by Walker and Kilpatrick formed to help re-elect Congressman Davis, County Commissioner Dan Mitchell and aid City Commissioner William "Bill" Farris in obtaining the highest gubernatorial vote in Shelby County. Its program was a complete success.

The Walker-McDaniel group's was only 16 percent successful with their endorsees.

ATTY. A. W. WILLIS

Of 10 candidates endorsed by the group only four won. They were Ramsay and Jordan for County commissioners. Of course, Oligati and Pritchard lost.

Evers was 100 per cent loser in his attempt to be elected Circuit Court Clerk, and to help elect Lewis Taliaferro to Congress.

Rev. Alexander Gladney, president of the Democratic club, was slighted when three members of the club appeared on a paid T.V. program the Wednesday before the Aug. 2 election. Appearing on the program were Sugarman, Willis and Turner. Club members voiced disfavor of not projecting the president of the club before potential voters.

RE-UNITING

Immediately after the election President Gladney issued a statement in which he called for a re-uniting of all Negro voters who had once effected a powerful block of 75,000 registered voters.

The Lincoln League suffered a death blow and the Shelby County Democratic club was riddled of its power.

cutted me and started to beat me," said the soldier. He said it happened on McLean st. between Hubert and Hunter sts. about 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 29.

Newbern said the two policemen put him in a patty-wagon, drove it to the 1800 block on Edward st., where there are no houses near and forced him to lie flat in the patrol wagon and beat him again while he was handcuffed. Later he was carried to the home of Mrs. Maggie Brown, 1191 N. Evergreen st., where the policemen asked her if Newbern was the unidentified man who assaulted her and her son and threatened them with a knife. Mrs. Brown said no, according to Newbern.

Witnessing the police brutality of Newbern were Mrs. Cloatee Moore, 1941 Edward st., who said, "I saw the policemen beat him until blood ran out of his mouth and from his head. His hands were handcuffed in front of him at the time he was being beaten." Also witnessing the beating were Mrs. J. M. Dodson, 1857 Hunter st., and her son, Ardenchey Williams of the same address.

Newbern said the patrol wagon was number 17 and one of the policemen was identified as G. L. Pinkston.

A brother of Mr. Harvey, Jake Calhoun, of St. Louis, Mo., left the hospital there to come to Memphis for the funeral.

Mr. Harvey is also survived by Miss Mamie Lewis, McKinley Lewis, Joe Henry Lewis, Sylvester Jones and Richard Jones, who resided with him at his Park avenue home.

Accidentally Killed During Wild Shooting Spree

Rushing out to investigate a disturbance near a theatre where he had served as assistant manager since 1948 resulted in the death of a 72-year-old popular Orange Mound resident last week.

The victim was Joe Lewis Harvey, assistant manager of the Handy Theater at 2353 Park, who died early last Friday in John Gaston hospital from a bullet wound in the head.

Charged with murder after first being booked on an assault to murder charge was L. Q. Tuggle, 39, of Oakville.

PUT OUT OF GRILL
According to homicide officials, Jeff Hodges, 22, of 700 Marianna, started cursing in the Shaw Grill at 2349 Park and was evicted by the management.

As Tuggle was walking by, police said, Hodges ran up to him and for no apparent reason started slashing him. Tuggle ran to his car, got a pistol and returned with blood covering his face and started shooting wildly.

FELL IN YARD
Mr. Harvey apparently alarmed at the disturbance near the theatre he helped build and which he had helped to manage, rushed from his home at 2341 Park and was cut down by a bullet in the cheek and toppled into the hedges around his front yard.

Hodges was hit in the head by a bullet, and John Talley, 39, of 814 Marianna was struck in the arm. All three were carried to the hospital in an ambulance from a near-by funeral home.

FLED IN CAR
After the shooting, Tuggle and a friend, Eddie Walker, also of Oakville, led police on an 85-mile-an-hour chase, and were apprehended when Sheriff's deputies set up a roadblock on Lamar outside the city limits.

A brother of Mr. Harvey, Jake Calhoun, of St. Louis, Mo., left the hospital there to come to Memphis for the funeral.

Mr. Harvey is also survived by Miss Mamie Lewis, McKinley Lewis, Joe Henry Lewis, Sylvester Jones and Richard Jones, who resided with him at his Park avenue home.

Final rites were scheduled to be held on Monday, but relatives feared the funeral might have to be delayed after his wife had to be rushed to the hospital that morning.

SASSER, Ga. — For the second time in two weeks, armed, white men entered the church. One man, identified as Deputy R. M. Dunaway, stood in the rear of the building smoking a cigarette and slapping a five-cell flashlight into his palm. Another man, Sheriff Matthews' nephew and chief deputy R. M. Matthews walked back and forth and fingered a hand-tooled black leather cartridge belt and a .38 calibre pistol.

Sheriff Zeke T. Matthews of Terrell County and thirteen other roughly dressed white men burst in on a voter meeting conducted by Charles Sherrod and warned the Negroes there not to hold any voter meetings in the future.

Sherrod, who works for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), an Atlanta-based student anti-segregation organization, said that a group of the same men broke into a similar meeting at another church in Sasser last week.

Newspaper reporters were present at the vote rally held last night, but Sherrod said that during last week's meeting the law officers cursed and swore at the assembled Negroes. Some of the men carried clubs, and all were armed, Sherrod said.

INTRUDERS

The SNCC worker was reading from the Bible when the

He asked the Negroes present if any of them were dissatisfied. "Yes," they answered. "Can you vote if you are qualified?" he asked. "No," they answered. "Do you need people to come down here and tell you what to do?" he asked. "Yes," they replied.

Deputy Matthews then questioned SNCC Field Secretary Ralph Allen, who later told the vote rally crowd about two beatings he had received in as many weeks because of his voter registration activities. The deputy told Allen, who is white, "Ralph, I'm going to have to ask you to leave the country until this thing quiets off."

WARNING

"There's not a nigger in Terrell County who wants to make application to vote who has to have someone from Massachusetts or Ohio or New York to come down here and carry them up there to vote," the 71-year-old sheriff said.

"Some of the niggers down here would just as soon vote for Castro," he added. Deputy Matthews told the Negroes that it would "not be in their best interest" to attend any future vote rallies.

As the Negroes left the meeting, one official said, "I know you. We're going to get you."

ODD JOBS

Field secretaries from the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) have been conducting voter registration drives in Lee, Terrell, and Dougherty Counties since October, 1961. The students, who said they had taken a year or more away from school to work in hard-core areas of the South, receive only subsistence pay. Sherrod said that his group in Terrell County — four Negroes, three whites — often picks squash and chop cotton to make ends meet.

In 1958, the Justice department authorized the local United States Attorney to seek indictments against three Terrell County policemen on police brutality charges, after a Negro died as a result of a beating he received in jail.

COURT ORDER

There are 8,029 Negroes in Terrell County and 4,533 whites. Some 2,894 whites are registered, but only 51 Negroes are on the rolls. On September 13, 1960, Federal Judge W. A. Bootle handed down an order enjoining the Terrell County Board of Registrars from discriminating in voter registration on the basis of race.

Housing Needed For Our Golfing Guests

Dear Sports Fans:

Next week we will have in our city golfers and their families from every state in the Union.

We have no idea how many will come, but we know that our hotel accommodations are very limited.

This is an appeal to all home owners with available space to come to our aid. If you can house golfers for at least one week—Aug. 18-24—drop us a card giving your name, address, telephone number, the price you want for lodgings, and whether or not your home is air conditioned.

These golfers are looking for the best in comfort. Mail cards to "Golf, 519 Vance Ave., Memphis," or to "Golf, Tri-State Defender, 236 S. Wellington St., Memphis."

We shall file these cards and contact homeowners as the needs arise.

Some of these families will be coming South for the first time. Memphis has a slogan, "The City of Good Abode." Let us extend this type of Southern hospitality.

These golfers will be the guests of all of us.

Thanking you.

Lil Wolfe.

Lakeviewing With Gerri

"The brilliant poppy flaunts her head
Amidst the ripening grain.
And adds her voice to swell
the song
That August's here again."

SUMMER WAXING

With the advent of August, many of us begin to say: "My, how time flies; I can hardly believe it's almost time for the school bells to ring again!"

In mentioning the word "school," did you know that the month called August was known as Sextilis (meaning sixth), during the days of the Roman Empire, when the calendar contained only 10 months?

THE TRAVELERS

Being mindful that the longest days of summer are already past when August arrives, Lakeviewites who have been homebound, began to scurry hither, thither and yon for a few days of fun and relaxation before resuming activities of fall.

Jean and Debbie Duvall, lovely young daughters of Fran and Richard Duvall went to St. Louis, Mo., to visit relatives and friends. A "first trip" alone, the youngsters arrived safely and are having loads of fun.

Carolyn Garner (Mrs. Fred A.J. hied away to New York City this week, where she will join her husband after the close of the summer session at Columbia University. The "lively ones" plan to enjoy a couple of weeks in the famed metropolis before returning home.

Lee Jamison (Mrs. William L.) returned from Louisville last week where she attended a church conference and then left again Friday for the Windy City for a few last moments of delectation.

HOUSE GUESTS

Ernestine and Bob McFerrin had as their house guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Seymour of Chicago. Mrs. Seymour is 'Stine's sister. Accompanying the couple were Vance and Vanessa, the couple's lovable twins.

After having a grand time here; the Seymours took Janet, personable 12-year-old daughter of the McFerrins, back to Chicago with them where she will spend the few remaining vacation days.

Newcomers to the community this week are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mason, who moved into ever-growing Lakeview Gardens.

To Zita Ralphaye Jackson, attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Ralph Jackson, we say: "Hope you had the kind of day."

That really was a happy one in every single way.

Happy Birthday!

Zita celebrated her fourteenth year, Sunday, August 5.

SERVING 1,000,000 NEGROES IN THE TRI-STATE AREA

ONCE IN A LIFETIME

Just a couple of days before we were officially inducted into the baseball Hall of Fame, Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference sponsored a testimonial dinner in our honor at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

We have had some thrilling experiences during our life span, but this was one event which literally gave us goose-pimples.

There was only one disappointment in an otherwise perfect evening. Dr. King, who had been scheduled as the principal speaker, had to fly back to Albany, Ga., because of a grave crisis there. However, the gracious and eloquent speech he had prepared was delivered by Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, executive assistant to Dr. King. Rev. Walker began by stating that no one could substitute for Martin King.

But let us tell you, Rev. Walker did a pretty wonderful job. A genuine hero in the Southern freedom struggle, Rev. Walker has been jailed several times for the cause. He is one of the dedicated young men of the South to whom we all owe a debt of gratitude.

What can you say or feel as you sit there on a banquet dais and hear telegrams read from the President, from the Attorney-General of the United States, from Dick Nixon? There were numerous others, too many to mention here.

What can you say or feel when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller says so many embarrassing nice things about you? Here is a man who is a friend of the Negro people, not because they are Negro people, but because he is a humanitarian man.

How do you describe hearing Dr. Ralph Bunche, the world peace ambassador, standing up there before the lectern and paying a tribute, completely winning the audience with his warmth and humor?

And Floyd Patterson, your buddy and a man you deeply respect. He sits there—not on the dais—although he is honorary chairman of the committee honoring you. He sits in the audience because he has refused to get into the spotlight, explaining that this is your night. And yet, he graciously changes his mind when the committee begs him to make the presentation of a sterling silver plaque.

You hear kind words from Judge Hubert Delaney, Manhattan Borough President Edward Dudley and that consistent champion of justice, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz. You think about all the work that went into making this a great evening; the work of Marian Bruce Logan and Catherine Basie and Alfred Duckett, the public relations man and members of his staff. You see pastors and their wives in the audience, members of the clergy, backing you this night as they did while you were in baseball.

You note, on the dais, Rev. Kilgore, Dr. Sandy Ray, Rev. E. G. Thomas and the Rev. George Lawrence who headed the splendid church participated on the dinner committee. In the good-looking souvenir book, you read the kind words of golf partner Ed Sullivan and of Roy Wilkins.

You walk down on the floor and travel to every table. You are pleased to find there are people there from Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Montreal and so many other cities. You get the feeling that they are there simply because they want to be.

The greatest thrill of all is that this night which has brought together the four people who have meant the most to you—and still do: your wonderful wife, Rachel; your wonderful mother, Mrs. Mallie Robinson; Branch Rickey, who gave you the big break; and Bill Black, your boss at Chock Full O' Nuts, who master of ceremonies Andre Baruch called the "Branch Rickey of Jackie Robinson's business career."

The evening is complete also because Jackie Jr., Sharon and David are there, as well as Mother Isum, Rae's fine mother.

This kind of thing happens to a man only once in a lifetime. No thrill can top it. You have two final thoughts—that you will never deliberately do anything to let any of these great people down—and the hope that the fight of Dr. Martin Luther King for true democracy has helped and that more and more people will support his work and the crusades of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Which Will It Be

The Negro voter did not use the so-called "bloc vote" during the Aug. 2 Primaries. Previously, white politicians have accused them of "bloc-voting" and "single-shotting."

In the Aug. 2 election they came nearer of voting their own convictions as individuals or groups than any previous record can reflect.

In the Aug. 2 election—something was lost and something was gained by the way

Negroes voted. They gained the experience of campaigning for candidates they believed in.

They lost the strength found in the unity created by them during the two previous elections.

Negro voters must decide which method they will employ in future elections to serve their best interest and the best interests of the community.

Which will it be?

All Democrats Should Support Clement

Voters across the state of Tennessee during the Democratic Primary manifested that they believe the former governor, Frank Goad Clement, is the man they want as the executive head of the state for the next four years. Voters gave Mr. Clement approximately 296,000, P. R.

Oligati, 204,100 and William Farris, 195,275.

All Democrats should unite behind Mr. Clement and support him in the November Election, which should be indicative of their willingness to help him make a "Great Tennessee, a Greater Tennessee."

Constitutional Rights

In a small, rural northeast Louisiana parish, a State judge has lit the fuse to a smoldering Federal-State civil rights fight over Negro citizens exercising their constitutional privilege at the ballot box.

A restraining order issued by District Judge Frank Voelker was aimed at Hunter States District judge Edwin F. Hunter who ruled last week that 28 Negroes from East Carroll Parish, where no Negro has voted in 40 years, were qualified to vote.

Hunter's action was the first in the nation under the 1960 Civil Rights Act, which gives judges the power to register qualified voters if there is no other way to alleviate discriminatory conditions.

East Carroll's voter registrar resigned last June and has not been replaced. The voter registrar office in that rural parish has been closed ever since a United States District judge issued an injunction May 30 that forbade discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

Judge Voelker's order claimed that the Federal District Judge overstepped judicial bounds and performed actions of the executive, rather than the judicial branch, of government.

Attorneys for the state of Louisiana contended that all of the 28 had failed some part of the qualifying test. They further argued that none of the 28 had tried to register between May 30 and June 14.

East Carroll is one of the staunchest segregationist areas in the Deep South. More than 60 per cent of its nearly 15,000 population live in rural areas, and more than 60 per cent of that population is Negro.

Backed by the stern determination of the Federal courts to observe and apply the law in the light in which it was meant, Negroes whose rights had been suppressed for nearly half a century in the Deep South are now availing themselves of their constitutional privileges under the protective shadow of the courts.

Voting is an important step in a democratic system. By asserting this right fearlessly, the Negro in the South will soon free himself from the shackles of racial prejudice that impede his progress and defeat his dreams of freedom and equality.

Being Frank

About People, Places
And Problems
By FRANK L. STANLEY

By VIVIAN STANLEY
(Guest Columnist)

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — It is a rare privilege to serve as a guest columnist for such an able and experienced writer as my husband, Mr. Stanley. Since the opportunity has arisen, I hope to share some of my concerns about the limited use of services available at the Family and Children's Agency of which I am a part.

Family and Children's Agency provides a multiple service of Family and Individual Counseling, services placement of children in Foster Homes and Adoptive Homes.

It is a member of Family Service Association of America and Child Welfare League of America and staffed by professionally trained caseworkers whose objective is to give each person or family a confidential, reliable, and helpful service.

The child placement program is an area of concern for there is a constant search in progress for more foster homes and adoptive homes.

Of greatest concern is the latter, for, like most agencies throughout America, we are faced with finding adoptive homes for Negro children and are receiving few applications who want children.

Since this is a universal problem, the Negro population of Louisville is not unique in the limited number of families who are interested in adoption to the extent that they apply. The reasons for this situation are manifold and too numerous to define here.

But, the crux of the problem seems to be that too many people listen to information secured from the uninformed. Too few seek valid information from the proper resources, specifically the agencies whose responsibility it is to place children in adoptive homes.

Families who do apply learn that many of their ideas have little basis in fact. The facts are: adoptive agencies provide a CONFIDENTIAL service for both the adoptive couple and the parent releasing the child for adoption. We seek couples who have stable marriages, a love for children and economic security to provide a child with the basic minimum needs.

I have a personal conviction that there are couples in this community whose lives would be greatly enriched by the presence of a child.

British Honduras Anxious For Peace Corps Volunteers Arrival

By KATE V. SCOTT

BELIZE, British Honduras (UPI)—British Honduras from the man on the street or in the fields to government officials, are looking ahead hopefully to the arrival of Peace Corps volunteers in September.

A final survey of the needs of the country and of facilities for volunteers just has been completed by William Wister of Philadelphia, international relations officer for the Central American and Caribbean unit of the Peace Corps. He said the Peace Corps is coming at the direct invitation of the government.

Forty volunteers are being requested, an enormous ratio in a country of only 90,000 inhabitants. For this reason, Peace Corps leaders anticipate making a great impact.

Wister commented they will begin in British Honduras with three major advantages: a common language, English; friendly, welcoming people; and an absence of hurricane-battered country. The anti-American, pro-leftist movement of this part of the world. He said this could be a "showcase" project for the Peace Corps.

Volunteers will be placed in each of the six districts schools to replace buildings of the country. It is expected the group will consist of at least six agriculturists to teach and do field work and which are half loan, half research; two statisticians, grant and the balance primary and secondary teachers.

In keeping with Corps policy, the volunteers will be accompanied as much as possible by British Hondurans. A project of equivalent status. Since everything indicates an enthusiastic reception for the volunteers rather than hostility, their major problem may be fighting the traditional inertia of the natives.

Volunteers for this project now are in training at the University of Maryland. They should arrive in Belize for a two-week orientation course early in September before being sent to their posts.

Although plans now call for a 21-month stay for volunteers, they could be replaced at the end of that time. Wister said that the Peace Corps considers itself a permanent agency of government and plans to keep volunteers here until the job is done.

The economic and political climate of tiny British Honduras marked today by great er cooperation between government and business than at any time in the country's history. Common danger shared are leading to a better understanding of each other's problems and a new willingness to work together for the ultimate development of the country.

First minister George Price returned from London recently with firm commitments to cash to rehabilitate the battered country. Belize has outgrown its small peninsula backed by swamp, it has nowhere to expand. Public water and sewage disposal are unfeasible in the dead-sea-level city.

A location well inland has been selected for the new capital. It is 50 miles north of Belize, about 23 miles south of the western town of El Cayo, and is at the junction of the Hummingbird Highway which winds through mountainous jungle to the port city of Stann Creek in the heart of the citrus country to the south.

Plans for the new capital, now being detailed, must be submitted to U. K. for approval before work can start, but government plans to move ahead with the project as quickly as is physically possible.

Okla. Indian Mission Shows Rapid Growth

The Oklahoma Indian Mission at Preston, Okla., shows the largest membership increase in 23 years during 1961, high of 9,827. That is only an increase of 6 1/2 per cent, 373 short of the goal of 10,000 members set by the Methodist work among 21 Indian tribes in Oklahoma.

The comparatively rapid growth of the Indian Mission gives additional evidence of the contrast between the large membership in the Methodist Church generally.

Whereas the denomination has had an average membership increase of slightly more than 1 per cent in the latter area, an increase of almost 8 per cent was achieved.

During 1961, every church in the Indian Mission added new members, and all but one received persons on profession of faith.

Other highlights of the annual conference were the ordination of 11 new ministers, the licensing of 17 men to preach, and the ship increases in Methodist home mission areas and the slow growth of the Methodist Church generally.

Recently, a young boy who had an accident while working with a sugar-cane crusher was admitted to Bethesda for amputation of his right forearm and left hand. But instead of amputating, doctors found a way to restore the use of both hands and after 14 operations, the boy was able to go back to work.

The backbone of the mission hospital — according to officials at Bethesda and other Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod hospitals and dispensaries in India, Nigeria, Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong, Guatemala, the Philippines, and New Guinea — is the missionary nurse.

This dedicated worker, whether she is an American or a native working among her own people, must be general duty nurse, evangelist, teacher, gal Friday, administrator, correspondent, linguist, public health nurse, lab technician, pharmacist.

And, like all mission hospital workers, she must also be a diplomat, having an understanding of the growing nationalistic feeling in today's developing nations, and a respect for their ways of life.

It was a missionary nurse, Miss Louise Ellerman, who, in 1913, began the work now carried on at Bethesda. Another missionary nurse, Miss Hedwig Gronbach, now administrates Bethesda's 24-bed rural branch hospital at Redivellu, India. The village people call Miss Gronbach "Missamma," an endearing term which sums up their gratitude for her understanding service.

The dedication and humility of those who serve in mission hospitals abroad is apparent in a message from the former head of the Bethesda hospital to his successor, Johannes B. Puschel, M.D. "Do not permit the immensity of the needs in the field to discourage you," he wrote. "It is our responsibility to use our technical knowledge and our financial means for the healing and the prevention of disease as a witness of the love of God to human kind as demonstrated also in the life and work of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Get $35,000 Toward New Men's Dorm

TALLAHASSEE — Thirty-thousand dollars in planning funds for a men's dormitory at Florida A and M University were recently released by the Florida Cabinet. The funds are to be used to complete plans for the construction of a $1,500,000 men's dormitory, according to A and M President George W. Gore, Jr.

Other major campus improvements scheduled to get underway during coming months include: a $300,000 expansion of utilities, and the construction of a $750,000 addition to the Student Union Building.

Currently, the $1,000,000 health and physical education building is being constructed on the campus. The target completion date is July 1, 1963, according to Dr. Gore. He also disclosed that University officials are presently engaged in preliminary made by his own mayor of steps of ordering furnishings Waterbury, Mayor Bergin, and equipment for the structure. The Mission Hospital Is Symbol Of Hope To Disease-Stricken, Poverty-Ravished India

Almost one fourth of all children born in India die during delivery. Disease and the ravages of poverty carry off another quarter of the infant population before it reaches ten years of age.

October brings the annual monsoon rain to South India, and with it, the dreaded cholera... sometimes in epidemic proportions.

Studies of 1,254 families in 25 Indian villages showed that 82 per cent of the people get their drinking water from unprotected wells. Only three per cent of the families had modern plumbing. Dysentery was prevalent.

In her desperate need for modern medical aid, India is no different from the rest of the world's fast developing nations... Ceylon, New Guinea, the Philippines, Formosa, and many others.

BRINGS HELP. HOPE

To these nations, the mission hospital brings help and hope — and healing both of body and of soul.

Returning after nine years' service in a Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod sponsored hospital at Ambur, India, Dr. Bulle writes, "The misery of these sufferers may make you painfully aware of the apparent lack of realistic concern of some Christians, who worship in impressive church buildings, drive comfortable automobiles, and live in attractive homes."

Bethesda Hospital at Ambur was the first Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod medical establishment in India. The hospital serves an area with a population of 75,000 to 100,000 people. Dedicated in 1923 it served 14,736 patients in its first year.

Today, after extensive remodeling and modernizing in the 1950's, Bethesda includes an out-patient department, administration building, men's and women's wards, surgery, TB wards, isolation wards, cottage wards, and diet kitchens... to conform with the caste laws.

130 ON STAFF

To most of the families living in and around the Ambur area, the hospital's mobile clinic — a jeep-drawn house trailer containing pharmacy, examining and treatment rooms — is a familiar sight. Staffed by a doctor, nurse, pharmacist and chaplain or catechist, it goes out weekly, treating about 200 people per trip, many of whom are leprosy victims. In addition, "motor - rickshas" carry nurses about the countryside for TB prevention and education work.

Of the 130 staff members of Bethesda, most are Indians — natives of the Ambur area and other parts of the country — who are given vital training at the hospital so they may serve their people and show God's love for the whole man through their medical concern.

Their director explains the underlying philosophy of this institution of mercy: "Our objective is to cure the whole man — body, mind, and soul. The only complete and real cure is in Christ."

"An important, frequently underestimated duty of the medical mission," says Wolfgang F. Bulle, M. D., executive secretary of the Lutheran Medical Mission Council at Africa and Asia," Dr. Bulle said. "The medical mission executive emphasized the need for more doctors, nurses, medical technicians — qualified persons of all ages and specialties — to volunteer for medical mission duties overseas."

LEPROSY

One of the biggest problems Bethesda workers face is the high percentage of leprosy among the people of that area and the stigma attached to this disease. Too often, leprosy among the uneducated brings social ostracism and deprival of the consolations of religion.

Throughout the world, almost ten million people suffer from this now curable disease. But education must keep up with medical advances if these people are to come forward to be helped.

Maternity assistance and the care of children, particularly during their first year of life, is another great need. The number of Indian women who have learned to trust modern medical help at the hands of Bethesda's maternity staff has multiplied 12 times in recent years.

The ability to meet surgical emergencies has always been

SOCIETY Merry Go-Round

BY MARJORIE I. ULEN

With the political mountain having labored and brought forth nothing much larger than a mouse... folk are glad that the splinters' platforms have been folded up; hoping that when the next election comes up, the only platform will be a solid structure, based upon a firm foundation with one common cause. A word to the wise is sufficient!

PARTY HONORS
CLEVELAND, OHIO'S MEMORY BISHOP WILLIS is house guest of her parents, the Jesse Bishops, and she was the raison d'être for the lively "no politics, please!" bridge party given by them in her honor last Friday night.

The Bishop home at 1622 S. Lauderdale was the scene of the gathering of smart young matrons, chic and cool in lovely summery frocks, who delighted to the cocktails, hors d'oeuvre, barbecued chicken, spaghetti, slaw menu... and a fun-filled session of bridge... trying very hard, but not quite succeeding, in avoiding that moot subject, the elections.

Scores of prizes were there for many reasons and fun-filled moments other than bridge, but among the top winners were Laurie Sugarman and Annie Belle Saunders.

Other guests were Cecelia Wesley, Elsie Thomas, Ethel Bell, Annie Laura Willis, Maxine Smith, Dorothy Evans, Elene Phillips, Emily Jackson, and Vera Smith. Naturally, Laurie Sugarman and Dorothy Evans were party "stars" in the domain of our pretty, pretty expectant heirings department.

MEMPHIS MEANDERINGS
MILDA NABON AND MATTIE WILSON have returned home from a three-week visit to our great Northwest, having visited the Fair at Seattle and toured Victoria and Vancouver in British Columbia. Enroute back to Memphis they stopped in Chicago with Milda's sister, Mabel Myers.

GOLD PINNING
Before WILLETT HUMPHREY embarked on her California trip with the YWCA group, she was the recipient of a gold pin for twenty years of faithful service in the State of Tennessee. Of the seven recipients of the pins in the Shelby County Office of the Department of Public Welfare, Willette was the only member of her race. The ceremony was attended by personnel from the State office in Nashville.

SUMMER SCHOOLING
The charming and talented Brooks sisters, CHARLOTTE, PHYLLIS AND MOSE YVONNE, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Brooks, sr., have sent word that they are spending enjoyable but busy days this summer in school. CHARLOTTE is studying at the University of Michigan; PHYLLIS and MOSE YVONNE are at Columbia university in New York City. All are Memphis city school teachers, as are their parents.

TRAVELWISE, AGAIN...
VELMA LOIS JONES and ZERNIA PEACOCK motored to Nashville for a long weekend trip... JANE JOHNNICAN, her mother, Mrs. J. B. JOHNNICAN, and JOSIE BALDRIDGE had more company on their return trip from California in the person of ALVA JAMISON who spent several weeks in LA, visiting her aunts, the former Clara Washington and Mrs. ELSIE MASON.

AND, we erred, but good in stating that Marion Ford was holding down the home fort when VIVIAN drove out to the Coast with the ALFRED HARRISONS. He was very much a part of the foursome, back home now after a delightful trip.

THEY are singing the praises of their hosts... the Harrison and Jones clan who complimented them with a posh cocktail party... Atty. Wendell Smith, owner of the Palm View Motel who was host at a swimming party in their honor... and Bob Pryor who filled their days with beach parties and visits to the race tracks.

THE FABULOUS FOMTAINBLEAU Hotel at Miami Beach was the stopping place of RUBY SPIGHT and BERTHA JOHNSON when they attended the American Teachers Association (ATA) meeting. Bertha was the TEC delegate.

Close by was Northwestern High School, headquarters for the meeting, a beautiful plant they said, but not air-conditioned. But the warmth of the hours of meeting was overcompensated when they returned to the fabulous Fontainebleau, where their suite was high up on the ocean frontage.

ETTA SUSAN ISH is back home from the Martin Johnson Camp at Irons, Mich., delighted with the swimming, horseback riding and wonderful days of camping in the beauties of northern Michigan.

She stopped off in Chicago on her way back to spend a day with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Barnett, and flew back home with her vivacious cousin, Odalie Ferrand of Beaumont, Texas, who stopped in Memphis for a visit with the Ishes, enroute to Texas, after a session of remedial reading classes at the University of Chicago.

UNITED GOLFERS
When the United Golfers Association holds its 36th National Open Tournament here Aug. 20-24 on the Fuller and Audubon greens, more than 350 golfers and approximately 1,500 visitors will converge in Memphis.

The national event is expected to attract more than 125 local golfers. Among the big name players expected for the nation's No. 1 tournament are Joe Louis, Teddy Rhodes of Chicago and Frank Lett of Detroit.

Both amateurs and professionals will play, with trophies going to amateur winners and a purse of $1,500 set up for winners of professional events. Maxwell Stanford of Pittsburgh is UGA president; Mr. Lett is chairman of the planning committee, and Mrs. Farris Brown will direct the tournament.

NATURALLY, these guests will be expecting real Southern hospitality... and will be spread, via red carpet route to many social events, highlighted by a cocktail party and banquet at the Flamingo Room on August 21.

The following night, the newly decorated and renovated Club Ebony will be the scene of a fashion and floor show dance. Connie Crenshaw will be the commentator and director of the fashion show.

IN OUR MIST
THE WELCOME MAT is spread for the WHITTIER SENGSTACKES, SR., who took up residence in Memphis last week. Mr. Sengstacke is the publisher of the TSD and has been a frequent visitor in our city, so much so that the family decided to move here, having been won over by the beauty and cleanliness of our fair city.

The interesting family comprises versatile daughter, Astrid, who came to Memphis from New York City where she worked at New York University; teen-age sons, Whittier, Jr., a high school senior, and Freddie, and a younger daughter, Ethel Marie.

Mattie Sengstacke is charmed to no end with the progressive air of the climate and the beautiful residential areas and shopping centers which make our great city reknown.

The Sengstackes are en-sconced at 1689 South Parkway, East, the former residence of Betty and Leroy Young. TWAS grand to see EVELYN STUART last week here visiting her cousins, Bob and Allie Mae Robert. Evelyn, the widow of M. S. Stuart, one of the founders of Universal Life Insurance Company, now resides in White Plains, New York with her daughter, Clivetta, and her family of three children and architect husband, whose name we can't recall at present.

SAVANNAH MAYS is back home from an extended visit in California, and in time to bid adieu to her nephew, Christopher NELSON, who is heading off to St. Paul and Minneapolis to visit with his father, Chris Nelson, sr., whose job has him based there presently.

LIBRARY GETS PAINTING
Ten charcoal paintings by Charles White were presented to the J. K. Daniels Library on the campus of Lane college last week. Making the presentation to Mrs. O. W. Hewitt, librarian, was Dr. C. A. Kirkendoll, president of the college.

The setting was an "Art Lover's Tea" under the direction of the art class with Mrs. E. M. Perry as instructor. Presiding was Charles Hess. Participating on the program were Mrs. Cathey, Miss Mary Bradley and Richard Burdine, giving "The Importance of Art and Negro Artists," which included the famed Charles White.

ABOUT THE ARTIST
Charles White, a resident of Altadena, Calif., is a painter, graphic artist, teacher and designer. He studied at the Art Institute of Chicago, Art Student League of New York, and Talle de Graphic, Mexico. He is listed in "Who's Who in American Art" and "Who's Who in the East."

Lane is fortunate to be one of the institutions having paintings of this noted artist, for there are collections in many colleges and private collections in ten countries.

White is married to the former Frances Barrett.

Fisk Prexy And Lady Guests Of President

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Wright, first family of the Nashville Fisk university campus, were in Washington, D. C. last week as guests of the President of the United States.

Dr. Wright, president of Fisk, and Mrs. Wright were among a small group of distinguished Americans attending a state luncheon in East Room of White House given in honor of President Carlos Julio Arosemena of Ecuador and Mrs. Arosemena.

The "First Lady" of Fisk and the one from Ecuador did not have the pleasure of meeting the official First Lady of the United States, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, but they were greeted by Mrs. Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, vivacious, dark-haired mother of President Kennedy, who was First Lady of Washington for that week.

JACKIE NOT THERE
Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy remained at the Kennedy's private summer quarters at Cape Cod's Squaw Island.

Dr. and Mrs. Wright assembled in the East Room of the White House and were announced upon their arrival. The two Presidents and their parties arrived at the White House promptly at 1:15.

The complete program included the reception in the East Room, the luncheon, and coffee in the Green Room after the luncheon.

For the occasion, Mrs. Wright wore a champagne-colored two-piece suit of imported silk shantung complimented by a turban hat of matching champagne and brown, with kid bag and shoes and eight-button kid gloves.

GUIDEPOST

By CARLOTTA WATSON
Parent-Teacher-Child Relationship 1962-63

Dear Mrs. Watson:
I am a poor young working mother with two small school-age children. One was in the first grade last year and seems unable to adjust. The other is in the fifth grade and is beginning to show a lack of interest in his lessons.

I did not know what was the matter, but since so much talk has been done about incompetent teachers, I am at a loss. I am wondering if this is the answer. And too, I am not able to furnish the clothes and the other things demanded by children and society today.

What can I do?
Worried mother.

Dear Mothers: I expect many parents are pondering this same problem so I say MOTHERS.

First I will talk about the social and spiritual problem. Unfortunately having someone on which to place blame will not solve our problems. Space will not allow me to go too much into detail on each problem, so please follow this column for the next week or so.

The foundation of making children acceptable citizens may be divided between the teacher and the parents, but the weight of this must be accepted by the parent. Solving this begins in the home at perhaps the age on ONE. An educator that I discussed this with emphasized the fact that social and spiritual training MUST begin at home in order to be effective at school. This person said, "Acts that are cute at 14 months (tantrums, etc.) may be the beginning of a discipline problem at 6."

If the child is not curbed before reaching school age, the lack of adjustment may grow and grow into unrecognizable proportions. That is why many times when the parent comes to school she is amazed, surprised, and disappointed when the teacher discusses with her the child's attitude. Taking off from work to have a mutual understanding with the teacher pays off. Sometimes I have heard teachers say, "If I had known the circumstances, I would have handled the problem differently."

Even all "A's" on the report card may or may not tell the whole social or spiritual story. However, remember, each child is an individual and must be handled as such. Study him, because he is studying you. He is smart, shrewd, and cunning, but because you are the parent, you are smarter, and should be able to outreason him.

NEW ORLEANS—(UPI)—

The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has modified a lower court's ruling to allow desegregation of the first three grades of all public schools in Orleans Parish (New Orleans) in the 1962-63 term.

The three-man appellate court said pupils enrolled in the second and third grades in segregated schools can ask for a transfer during the 1962-63 school term.

The court said that children enrolled in the second and third grades this year "may transfer to the formerly all-white or formerly all - Negro school nearest his home, at his option."

The action provides for an expanded desegregation of the Orleans public schools. Since it was first desegregated in 1960, only 12 Negro children have been enrolled in formerly all-white schools.

The three-judge panel of District Judges John Minor Wisdom, John Brown and Circuit Judge Richard T. Rives also ordered the Orleans Parish school board to end dual school systems for the first and second grades in 1963, and in 1964 to abolish the system for the first five grades.

Some 5,500 Fans Attend Southland Nightly For Sport Of Dog-Racing

The sporting mecca for this area is undisputedly Southland Greyhound Park, located in West Memphis, Ark., where an average 5,500 fans gather nightly to watch and wager on the racing greyhounds—amid courteous conveniences associated with seaside hotels and summer resorts.

This season's daily attendance is an estimated 10 percent higher than it was during a similar period last season. The total official attendance last season was 477,491.

When the track's general manager, Bernard Riley, was asked how he accounts for the increase in attendance, he replied:

FREE OF CHARGE

"I think it is because of our treatment of the people." He went on to point out "we have one of the country's best facilities here for handling the business. As a matter of fact, we have more facilities here for fans' enjoyment than most tracks. We have parking space for more than 2,200 automobiles, which are handled rapidly.

We have glass-enclosed air-conditioned club-rooms on the second level, overlooking the entire track—with food service. Fans don't even have to move from their tables or seats to place bets. We offer that service free of charges."

The general manager explained further: "We plan to enlarge the second level as well as add more seats on the first level. This indicates our interest in our fans—they come to enjoy themselves and each year we try to add to facilities."

He said: "Overall bets are up about 10 percent over the 1961 season during a similar period. Bets of our colored fans are up about four percent."

NEGRO FANS
The nearest dog-track to Southland is Pensacola, Fla. Fans are drawn to Southland from a solid 25-miles radius, which extends to about 75 miles.

When asked about the class of dogs used, Riley said: "We use some of the best dogs in the country." He revealed that "Color Smart" qualified in the Wonderland Derby in Boston, Mass., then went on to win the $50,000 Revere Handicap in Revere, Mass., where the best greyhounds in the country compete each year.

The general manager of Southland also said: "This is the only track in the country which hires a solid unit of Negro cashiers and sellers. One man started as a 'runner'—now he is a 'take-off' man. The educational standards of our colored men is about as high as any group in the business. Negro fans are provided with equal facilities."

GENERAL MANAGER
Three Negro security officers are also hired at the track. Riley said: "The relations between our white and Negro security officers is very good." Negroes are also employed in the various concession stands.

Texan Visits Memphis

Master Onis G. Price flew into Memphis from Austin, Texas, recently to spend the rest of the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clardy Ferguson of 1407 Austin st.

At the airport to welcome him were a number of relatives and friends.

Chattanoogans Visit

Mrs. Edna Beard and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Moore of Chattanooga were recent guests of Mrs. Myrtle Reed of 101 S. Parkway east. Mrs. Beard, a noted singer and teacher for five years, gave a solo at St. Paul church. The visitors were en route to St. Louis.

WITH OR WITHOUT the greyhounds, Miss Yural Moore and Miss Jean Burnett Wright attract a lot of attention. Do you agree? They are shown at the reservation booth at beautiful Southland Greyhound Park.

WILL BASS, first Negro Mutuel employee at Southland Park, has received promotions each year. Now he is one of the top men in his department.

GLADIATORS RATED EVEN

If you're of the lot who places a great deal of confidence on the comments of experts in a particular field, then by placing your money on Sonny Liston to tear Champion Floyd Patterson into ribbons when they meet for the title in September, it is like money in the bank.

According to Billy Conn, the ex-fighter who came within an eyelash of upsetting Joe Louis when the Brown Bomber was in his prime, says that Liston is the best of the modern day fighters and indicated that Floyd can't take a punch. Before you bet the shirt off your back, you should know that former heavyweight titleholder Ezzard Charles differs with Conn, and picks Patterson to be the one delivering the devastating arsenal. This writer is unaware of Conn's criteria for sizing up the two fighters, however it was a pretty simple matter for Charles.

In a recent interview with "Ez" he explained that he is stringing along with Patterson because, as he puts it, "I know nothing about Liston." There is one conclusion you may draw from the Conn-Charles comments. That the predicted butchering in the ring could qualify both battlers for employment in the slaughter houses at the Chicago Stockyards.

When Jersey Joe Walcott was in town earlier in the summer he took the middle-of-the-road position, stating that the fighter that connected with the most damaging blow first would be the victor.

PREP COACHES TALK

Manassas football coach Johnny Johnson and Bill Fowles, cage mentor at Booker T. Washington, took part in the annual Tennessee A&I State Blue Ribbon Coaching Clinic last week in Nashville. Both received fees to talk about their championship teams. Howard of Chattanooga claimed a part of the state football championship, so its head coach, George "Chubby" James was similarly honored.

U. S. - RUSSIA SPLIT

This year's Annual United States - Russian Track and Field Meet held at Palo Alto, California, in the 90,000 seats of Stanford university stadium, was a spectacle in its two-day run. The results again were the same since these getting-to-know-you extravaganzas convened in 1959.

The American men, led by a bevy of septa stars, took the measure of their Soviet counterparts. However, the Reds gained a split when their women again dominated the U. S. gals.

Everybody knows that the male events are the real attractions, but the Russians can look only to their female squad for consistent triumphs, and you only have to get a quick glance at the veteran muscular women athletes to tell why.

The highly publicized Valeri Brumel-John Thomas and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan-Ralph Boston duels came out about as expected. In the high jump, the great Brumel not only kept his jinx over Thomas, but soared over the bar 7 feet - 5 inches to set a new world record. The young Soviet previously held the record three-eighths of an inch shorter than his record leap made on the final day of this year's meet.

Ter-Ovanesyan, another of the bright young Russian stars, had set the world's record in the broad jump at 27 feet - 3 inches before coming to America. The leap broke the record of Boston, his American opponent.

There was one barrier that stood in the way of the Russians, and that loomed too large - Boston had taken the measure of Ter-Ovanesyan in each of their previous matches. Boston won the broad jump with a leap of 26 feet - 9 inches.

AMERICA, TAKE NOTE

It was quite thrilling to see the American athletes march in single file, embracing the Soviets in the grand finale parade which concluded the meet. The outstanding thinclads from each country led the long delegations - Boston for the United States and Brumel for Russia.

Sprinkled in were some of the world's greatest track stars. Among the group was Wilma Rudolph Ward, a double winner in the 100 meters and 400 meters relay. That brings to mind when the Tennessee A&I University star, along with Boston, appeared this year in Memphis and found our Mayor too "busy" (bowling) to come out and greet them.

The purpose of the U. S. - Russian duels is to bring about a better understanding between the peoples of the two countries with contrasting ways of life. We couldn't help but visualize what a farce this gigantic display of humanitarianism was, in view of the loaded jails in Albany, Georgia and the discrimination that even some of the ebony participants would experience as soon as they returned to their hometowns and their track paraphernalia packed away.

Dictator's Exiled Clan

WASHINGTON — (UPI)—What does a dictator's family do when its cozy little world of endless police power, graft and nepotism suddenly turns into a democracy?

The Trujillo clan, late of the Dominican Republic, is faring pretty well, according to information reaching here. Some of its members are actively plotting to regain power. Others have decided such exertion isn't worth it and are living luxurious lives abroad.

A few are even working. More than a year has passed since the Dominican Republic kicked them out. It was on May 30, 1961, that the family patriarch, Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, was ambushed and assassinated on a lonely road.

From the chaos that ensued, a seven-man council of state emerged to govern the Dominican Republic.

As for the Trujillo family, most of them have gone to Europe.

The late dictator's eldest son, Rafael (Ramfis) Trujillo, presently lives in luxury near Paris. The present Dominican government has said it would like to have France extradite the one-time Hollywood playboy so it could put him on trial.

Ramfis took over control of the Dominican armed forces and was the country's strongman for a while after his father's death. The most powerful of the old dictator's brothers are Jose Arismendi Trujillo Molina and Hector Trujillo.

Jose is in Madrid and, according to the best information, is actively attempting to organize a coup against the present Dominican government. As for Hector, once president of the Dominican Republic, he lives in Miami, Fla. Like brother Jose, he is said to be financially well off. He is understood to have no plans to return to the island, however.

The generalissimo's widow, Maria Martinez De Trujillo, is said to be moving from Paris to Madrid.

JOCKEY IN "SADDLE" — Mark Stansbury, alias "Question Mark" is seen "riding" the control board at Radio Station WDIA last Saturday as he filled in for the vacationing "Honeyboy."

The "Mark" can be heard this Saturday from 9 p. m. until the station goes off at midnight. When Theo "Bless My Bones" Wade goes on vacation, starting Aug. 13, Mark will arouse WDIA listeners with the "Delta Melodies" at 4 a. m.

ERIC M. deFREITAS, the senior Negro member of the AMF Staff of Champions, was re-elected President of the National Bowling Association at the Annual Convention held in Buffalo, New York recently. The election marks his third successive term as head of the 7,000 member bowling group.

Recognized as one of the top bowling instructors in the country, deFreitas is one of three Negro members of the AMF Staff of Champions, which is composed of the elite men and women in the bowling world. deFreitas is a pioneer in promoting Negro bowling. Says Cairo Negroes To Hit Bias With Ballots

CAIRO, Ill. — (UPI) — A ballot battle against alleged racial segregation in this historic river port was pledged by Negro integration leaders.

The Rev. Blaine Ramsey, vice president of the Cairo chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said a key aim of an Independent Voters League organized Thursday will be "to fight the old political regimes."

"It is time the people gave the politicians a platform instead of the politicians giving the people a platform," Ramsey said.

Month-long anti-segregation demonstrations by Negroes and whites at a roller ring and swimming pool resulted in the arrest of more than a score of Negroes and fines for 19 of them. Most of the white demonstrators were university students from other cities.

Ramsey said Negroes account for about 3,500 of Cairo's 9,300 population and estimated that up to 4 per cent of Alexander County's 20,000 plus residents are Negroes.

"The Negro leaders of Alexander County feel very strongly about the appointment of a Negro as a chief deputy sheriff. We will encourage all Negroes who feel they are qualified to run for office."

He said league members will also be instructed on split ballot and write-in voting.

Miss Mary McCollum, 22, white former college coed from Nashville, Tenn., led another "stand-in" demonstration at a roller skating rink Thursday night where 19 Negro and white demonstrators were arrested two weeks ago.

She said the owner, William Thistlewood, told the demonstrators it would cost them $1 apiece to skate.

The rink was closed about 15 minutes after they arrived.

Accuse Miss. Cops Of Beating Boy

GREENWOOD, Miss. — Police severely beat a 14-year-old Negro boy in the jail here in what a young civil rights worker called "another Emmett Till case that didn't come through."

Samuel Block, Greenwood Field Secretary for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), said that Greenwood police beat Welton McSwine after the youth was taken to the jail here for "investigation."

Block charged that the policemen forced the young-
